COUNSELLING

Dr. Jamie Stahl

As a therapist, teacher, mentor, and former veterinarian I support and encourage you in embodying and expressing your inner truths, desires and living whole-heartedly. I practice the healing ways of the ancient somatic (body) traditions with a body-centered psychotherapy approach to reveal the wisdom of the heart and to return to the endless source of love within. This embodiment of love and awareness offers a way to alleviate suffering, deepen relationships, and create a meaningful life that we most long and yearn for.
